WORLD CONFERENCE ON RECORDS

Approved For Release 2006/09/25 : CIA-RDP73-00402R000100140021-6

RECORDS PROTECTION IN AN UNCERTAIN WORLD

World events over the past ten years have caused many thinking people to be concerned about the protection, not only of the world's great art treasures and priceless antiquities, but for the protection and preservation of all vital records of the peoples and nations of the world. These records are at the mercy of flood, fire, hurricane, earthquake, insect and natural deterioration as well as by the destruction brought about by man.

The World Conference on Records has been planned to bring together people from from all over the world who are interested in and have the responsibility for the world's records and who recognize the public trust they have placed in them for their safety and preservation. The theme of the conference is "Records Protection in an Uncertain World." It is being held to commemorate the Diamond Jubilee year (75th Anniversary) of the Genealogical Society of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints was founded in November of 1894.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON
July 16, 1969

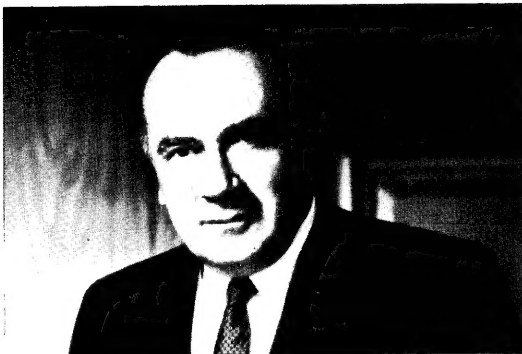

My congratulations go out to the Genealogical Society of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints on your far-sighted vision in sponsoring the first World Conference on Records.

Society will surely benefit from your timely idea to bring together both those who use records and those who preserve them to discuss matters of common concern. You serve not only this country but all humanity as you focus international attention on man's considerable reliance on the documentary heritage of his planet.

The doubts and difficulties of our revolutionary modern age make it imperative that we not ignore the lessons of history, and that we not neglect the archives that encompass the drama of human experience.

So to all who attend the World Conference on Records, I extend my very best wishes for a rewarding session -- and my hope that from your deliberations will come new initiatives for the effective preservation of archives, and for freer public access to the knowledge they record.

Richard Nixon

STATE OF UTAH
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
SALT LAKE CITY

GALVIN L. RAMSEY
GOVERNOR

Greetings to the World Conference on Records:

Welcome to Utah....

We are happy to have you visiting with us. While you are in Utah I hope that you can take time to travel through our State. You will discover some of the most spectacular scenery on the face of the earth.

Besides the beauty of the Salt Lake Valley, Temple Square and the other scenery you see around you in this part of Utah, there are many diverse and different scenes outside this area. Utah offers some of the West's finest fishing and hunting and the challenge of rugged country for the climber. For the less energetic visitor, Utah's red-rock deserts and high mountain timber and lake country are quickly and easily accessible by car and offer a variety of accommodations.

We hope you enjoy your stay with us. Best wishes for a successful Conference and do try to see as much of our State as possible. You are our guests.

Cordially,
Galvin L. Ramsey
Governor

J. BRACKEN LEE
MAYOR

We are delighted to have you with us. The citizens of Salt Lake City, as well as the City Commission, assure you we stand ready to make your visit as pleasant as is humanly possible, and we ask that you call upon us if you find, at any time, we can be of service to you.

I am confident your stay here will prove both enjoyable and rewarding. I hope you will return again and again in future years. A warm welcome will always be your greeting.

Respectfully,
J. Bracken Lee
